France, Germany Will Sign Pact Renouncing Warfare As Result of Munich Parley

Announcement Ties in With Journey of British Leaders to Paris to Strengthen Military Relationship

Nazi Taxation

Nazi Government Goes Ahead With Imposition of Fine for Vom Rath Death

(By The Associated Press)

An official French announcement that France and Germany have agreed to sign a pact renouncing war against each other coincided today with the journey of British leaders to Paris presumably to strengthen military ties between Britain and France.

An official spokesman said signature of the Franco-German anti-war accord, fruit of negotiations since the Munich conference of September 29, was expected soon.

Meanwhile Premier Daladier, beset with opposition to his economic program and a spreading wave of strikes, awaited the arrival of Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax of Britain.

There was a strong belief their visit would result in forging the Anglo-French mutual assistance pact in a virtual military alliance through rewriting of the present agreement.

Though some French and British anti-Jewish campaign was a barrier to reaching a full appeasement agreement with Adolf Hitler, Germany went ahead with her program of levying an assessment of 20 per cent on Jewish fortunes exceeding $2,000 for the assassination of Ernst vom Rath, Paris embassy secretary, by a Jew.

The assessment was decreed as the German propaganda machine, in full swing, warned no mercy would be shown in writing "the last chapter of the Jewish question."

Propaganda Minister Goebbels last night told 2,000 propaganda workers that the Nazis would pursue their course until Jews are driven from German life.

The free city of Danzig followed Germany's lead decreeing "purity of blood" laws like Hitler's Nuremberg racial laws of 1935. Jews were forbidden public office and, while retaining citizenship, were barred from voting on questions of state administration.

In British Jewish and organizations insisted speed was the prime necessity of plans for aiding Jews in Germany. Disaffection in Tanganyika, northern Rhodesia and British Guiana since it was feared delays would be entailed.

Daladier, working to get his foreign policy in running order before he faces parliament December 6, had new difficulties to meet as thousands of striking metal workers around Valenciennes occupied factories in protest against Daladier's decree laws which lengthen working hours and raise taxes.

Teachers to Fight

State's 80,000 Public School Mentors Pledged to Battle Federal Income Tax

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—New York state's 80,000 public school teachers were pledged today to an active fight against any attempt to levy a retroactive federal income tax on their salary.

The house of delegates of the State Teachers Association adopted a resolution yesterday condemning any retroactive application of the tax to state and municipal employees as "most unfair."

The treasury department has indicated, speakers said, that the tax, if and when applied, would be retroactive 12 years.

The delegates elected these officers: President, Dr. William J. Small, Niagara Falls deputy school superintendent; vice-presidents, John Dodd of Freeport, Miss Pauline Baker of Albany, Dr. Ernest Hartwell of Rockport, and Miss Edith Armitage of Auburn.

No Reconciliation Stockyards Strike Might Affect Loop Meat Packer Units

Lette Davis, blonde star of the films, and in private life Mrs. Harmon O. Nelson, is shown on the left in a picture which she was working after she had announced that her marriage to her childhood sweetheart would end in divorce. Her actor's agent husband signed a divorce complaint at Hollywood. Miss Davis announced to her newspaper friends that their present "marital vacation" would become permanent and there would be no reconciliation.

Union Official Says Attempts to Move Animals Through Yards Would Cause a Strike Call to 20,000

Chicago, Nov. 23 (AP)—A threat to paralyze operations in the huge Chicago meat packing plants developed today from the labor dispute which has halted trading in the world's largest livestock market.

A union official said attempts to move meat animals through the stockyards before settlement of the dispute would be countered with a strike call to some 20,000 packing house workers.

The labor leader, President Benjamin Brown of the CIO Stock Handlers Union, asserted such a strike would cripple 90 per cent of the packing plants' activities.

At present the dispute involves an estimated 575 stock handlers and the Union Stockyard and Transit Company. The firm manages the stockyards which serve as a market independent of the packing plants. Handlers unload and feed livestock in the pens and drive the animals to the slaughter houses.

Approximately 60,000 head of cattle, hogs and sheep stranded by the strike were moved through the yards yesterday by white collared commission men before expiration of a truce. The CIO handlers have banned further operations pending settlement of the dispute.

The scheduled arrival of 10,000 head of livestock from farms coupled with an announcement by the stockyards management that it would "continue to operate," promised to precipitate a crisis.

There was a possibility, too, that a rival AFL group of stock handlers might go to work despite the CIO edict.

Three Bail Bond Racket Studies Are Being Held

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Three separate investigations were under way today into reports of a Brooklyn bail bond racket.

Most important was the general inquiry authorized by Gov. Lehman into Brooklyn law enforcement agencies, which opened yesterday as an extraordinary grand jury heard evidence in the theft of 7,200 police arrest records.

Police officials have charged that the records were stolen to cover up bail bond irregularities. Police Lieutenant Cuthbert J. Behan is charged with grand larceny in connection with the case.

As the grand jury began work, aides of William B. Herlands, city commissioner of investigations, raided the offices of four professional bondsmen in Brooklyn and seized their records. Herlands declined to comment on the raids.

Meanwhile District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, supervised by Special Prosecutor John Harlan Amen in the general inquiry, announced he had discovered three more instances of bail bond frauds involving perjury, bringing to ten the total of such cases he has unearthed in his independent investigation. He said the evidence had been presented to the regular Kings county grand jury and that indictments would be forthcoming.

In a 2,500-word charge to the extraordinary grand jury, Supreme Court Justice Francis D. McCurn of Syracuse appointed by Gov. Lehman to preside over Amen's investigation, told the jurors to "do justice to the very best of your ability and understanding, no matter who is concerned, and let the consequences be what they may."

Outlining the scope of the inquiry, Justice McCurn said it would cover "any and all acts of misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance, misconduct or negligence committed in connection with the enforcement of law in Kings county by public officers, employees, or persons including the police, district attorney and any or all members of his staff."

The extraordinary grand jury called two police officials—Inspector Charles P. Dorschell and Byron P. Wilson, acting superintendent of police buildings—for testimony in the records theft case. Other officials were scheduled to appear today.

Wild November Gales
London, Nov. 23 (AP)—Wild November gales battered British shipping today. While lifeboats went to the aid of small craft, the liner Queen Mary was unable to dock at Plymouth and was forced to proceed to Southampton. Three persons were killed by falling walls at Taunton and Stroud.

A 'Small-Town Lawyer' May Get Cabinet Job

Most news pictures show Robert Jackson smiling. People who know Jackson, listed by The Associated Press as probable successor to Homer Cummings as U. S. Attorney General, say the pictures do him justice. He's usually cheerful, always easy to approach.

Once he was a big-time corporation counsel. Much of his work in the Department of Justice—he's Solicitor-General now—has been directed toward busting monopolies. But he still likes to call himself a small-town lawyer.

Jackson started work in the government as counsel to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, soon won the admiration and friendship of the President. He was mentioned for the New York governorship last winter but nothing came of it.

The fiery lawyer's a brilliant, spade-calling conversationalist, meets you squarely with his wide-set darting blue eyes. Spends most of his off-hours reading classics, riding horseback with Mary, his 18-year-old daughter, or putting in the garden with his wife, whom twenty-two years ago Jackson married. She was Miss Irene Gerhardt of this city.

Dig Out Your Overcoats, Says Weather Bureau, Snow's Coming

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Dig out your overcoats and casholers. Thanksgiving Day travelers, for it's going to snow and turn colder in most sections of New York state.

Snow began sweeping across the state from Buffalo early today, amid a heavy fog, and is scheduled to continue through the night with temperatures dropping to minimums ranging from 15 degrees above zero at Syracuse to 22 degrees at Albany. There were two inches of snow in Rochester.

Despite heavy travel on snow-clogged, fog-shrouded highways, state police reported few accidents. More than an inch fell in Buffalo in three hours as the storm swept eastward from the Great Lakes, heralding the end of the shipping season.

James B. Spencer, government meteorologist at Buffalo, said the snow was general over most of New York state and in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and northern Pennsylvania.

The forecast for western New York was snow and colder tonight, with a minimum temperature of 20 degrees above zero.

An inch of snow blanketed roads in Chautauque county. Similar conditions obtained in Genesee county.

Planes Bomb Barcelona
Barcelona, Nov. 23 (AP)—Eight insurgent warplanes bombed Barcelona today in the first aerial raid the government capital has suffered in weeks. At least 33 persons were killed and more than 70 wounded.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Psychiatrists attempted today to answer the riddles of the helping-hand death case in which a widow was charged with assisting her husband in contriving his own lethal gas chamber.

Baffled Westchester county authorities last night withdrew a tentative verdict of suicide in the automobile exhaust death of Eugene Y. Burckhalter, 47, chemical company executive, and Assistant District Attorney Elbert T. Gallagher said the case was "wide open" again.

Held with the widow, Mrs. Marie Burckhalter, 44, as a material witness in default of $2,000 bail was Melvin Kittle, 34, dapper salesman and former Californian, who had been her companion frequently in recent weeks.

As examination of Mrs. Burckhalter continued, two psychiatrists sorted the facts of her life in search of an explanation for her conduct.

What sort of woman, Dr. James J. Vavasour of Amityville and Dr. William J. Doherty of Yonkers wanted to know, would give her husband a length of hose to pipe carbon monoxide into his car? What sort of woman would watch him drink the cracks in the car, take a snapshot of him, hand him an egg nog, and then leave him contemplating death to go shopping—all of which Gallagher has said Mrs. Burckhalter admitted doing?

New Jersey Crash Kills a Saugerties Woman Last Night

Mrs. Grace DuBois, 33, Victim of Accident Which Occurs During 'Black-Out' Fog Near Hackensack

Mrs. Grace DuBois, 33, of Saugerties, was fatally injured last evening near Hackensack, N. J., on route 2, when the truck in which she was riding, operated by her brother-in-law, Henry DuBois, collided with another truck.

Complete details as to how the accident happened were not available today, but it was learned that two trucks collided in the heavy fog which blanketed southern New York and New Jersey last evening.

Mrs. DuBois, it was learned at Saugerties, left that village yesterday afternoon on a truck of the Knaut Brothers, who operate mushroom plants in the area. She sat with Mr. DuBois in the front seat of the machine and was apparently nearest the point of impact of the two trucks.

Henry DuBois, the driver of the truck, it was learned escaped serious injury. Injuries which caused the death of Mrs. DuBois were undetermined.

The accident according to The Associated Press was one of several in the area due to the heavy fog. A New Jersey railroad crossing crash was also said to be due to the fog which attended at the Newark airport called a "pou-souper."

The Associated Press dispatch says a priest of Passaic, N. J., escaped injury when the car in which he was riding was tossed 15 feet by a westbound Erie Railroad train which struck it at the Washington Place crossing in Passaic.

Pope Pius Names Legate to London

First Time Since 16th Century That Such Appointment Has Been Made

Vatican City, Nov. 23 (AP)—Pope Pius today appointed an apostolic delegate to London. Vatican sources said it was the first time since the sixteenth century reformation that such an appointment had been made.

Monsignor William Godfrey, rector of the venerable English College in Rome since 1929, was named to the post, at the same time becoming titular archbishop of Cio in Asia Minor.

The Italian press published reports from London that the Vatican's action was believed to be a move seeking British support in the church's conflict with Germany over the treatment of German Catholics. Vatican officials declined to comment on this point.

Great Britain, although maintaining a legation to the Holy See, is understood to have refused for centuries to have a papal nuncio in London such as represents the Vatican in such countries as France, Italy and Germany, with large Catholic populations.

Strikers Defy Daladier
Paris, Nov. 23 (AP)—Eighteen thousand metal workers occupied factories around Valenciennes and Lille today in defiance of Premier Daladier's order against occupational strikes. The strike was expected to force a showdown test on the government's power to enforce new decree laws.

Captain Hoffman Dies; Napanoch Institution Head

Captain John L. Hoffman, who has been superintendent of the Napanoch Institution for Delinquent Boys since October 28, 1936, died at his home last night following a week's illness from heart trouble. He was taken ill about a week ago with a cardiac condition from which he failed to recover.

Captain Hoffman was one of the outstanding figures in the state correctional institution set up, having been identified with correctional institutions all his life except for periods when he served in the United States Army at the time of the Spanish-American War, the Boxer Rebellion in China and in the World War.

His record as a soldier was as outstanding as was his record in private life. Born at Buffalo 55 years ago, he received his education in that city and at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War in 1898 he enlisted in the infantry and served as a sergeant in the 13th U. S. Infantry. He served at the battle of San Juan Hill and later in the Philippines during the insurrection. He served with honor and distinction throughout his enlistment and later served with the American forces in China at the time of the Boxer Rebellion. He was a sergeant of infantry in China. During the World War he again volunteered for service in 1918 and was commissioned a captain of infantry and assigned to various outfits.

His service in state penal institutions began in 1902, when he became a guard at Elmira Reformatory. In 1904 he was transferred to Napanoch as a guard and in 1912 he became chief guard at Napanoch. His former military service made him particularly efficient in his prison work and in 1914 he was made captain of the guard at Napanoch. In 1918 he was granted a leave of absence for military service and on completion of that duty he returned to Napanoch. Later he was made assistant superintendent on October 1, 1923. His outstanding service at Napanoch was responsible for his selection, in 1926, when he went to Auburn, prison as warden. For that service he was granted a leave of absence from his duties at Napanoch. Later he returned as assistant superintendent at Napanoch and on October 28, 1936, after the death of Dr. Walter N. Thayer, he became superintendent of Napanoch, a position he still held at the time of his death.

Fraternally he was a member of Wawarsing Lodge, No. 52, F. & A. M., of Ellenville. He was also a member of George D. Cook Post, American Legion, of Ellenville, and a member of the United States Spanish-American War Veterans' Association of Middletown.

Captain Hoffman is survived by his wife, Anna Fay Hoffman; an adopted son, Paul Glaister, of Chicago, and one brother, Charles Hoffman, of Buffalo.

Funeral services will be held from the late home at Napanoch Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Faintekill Cemetery at Ellenville. The Rev. M. O. Bennett of Napanoch will officiate.

Public Service Commission Puts Kingston on Project Program; Local Officials Say Agreement Is Sought

Railroad Stand

Cost to Railroad Slight, but Difficulty Hinges on Engineering Problems

Elimination of 10 crossings in this city at an estimated cost of $4,375,000 is listed among the projects approved by the New York State Public Service Commission, it was announced today.

Listing of the local project among those scheduled for 1939, together with the fact that the recently adopted constitutional amendment reduces the cost of such projects to the railroads, makes possible an early fulfillment of a proposal which has been "shelved" on many prior occasions.

Local officials including Mayor Haselmann, Corporation Counsel Caslin and City Engineer Norton, have indicated that every possible effort will be made to reach an agreement with the New York Central Railroad Company for ultimate approval of the project.

Must Suit Railroad
The city's greatest hope in securing early approval of the project, it was stated by a public official today, lies in the fact that a plan suitable to the railroad company must be submitted.

Such a plan is being prepared in the City Engineer's office with a view to solving the problems which are expected to form the major basis of objection by the railroad company, now that the cost of the project to the railroad could represent but a minor objection.

The next public hearing on the proposal, it is expected, will be one for submission and consideration of the city's plan and the date for this will be set by the public service commission at its convenience.

At a hearing held some time ago testimony on the hazards and inconvenience of the crossings were presented and this was an important factor in securing inclusion of the project on the elimination program.

Crossings on List
The crossings listed for elimination include those at Broadway, Ten Broeck, Smith Foxhall and Franklin avenues, and Gago, Grand, Cornell, Downes and O'Neil streets.

Included among the most likely objections of the railroad company are the facts that certain engineering difficulties will hamper operation of trains on the lead during construction work and that operation of trains will be difficult in the north and south switching yards.

The city's proposed plan, it is understood, will endeavor to present a workable solution to those problems, and it is expected that success of the plan will depend largely upon how well they are reduced by the railroad officials.

Kingston's project is one of 35 on the approved list of the commission, scheduled for elimination in 1935. The fact that the project is listed, however, does not mean that it will be started next year, and this fact again will depend upon the effect of local action, it was stated by a city official.

The approved list of grade crossings to be considered for elimination during the calendar year of 1939 includes 19 new projects which appear on the elimination program for the first time and 16 projects carried over from the 1938 elimination program which have been under consideration during the present year but upon which no final determination has been made.

Big-Wigs to Meet

Republican State Committee Will Take Up Question of Party Reorganization

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—The Republican State Executive Committee will take up the question of party reorganization at a meeting in Albany next Monday. The meeting was announced last night by State Chairman William S. Murray of Utica, who refused comment on reports of several important changes in the executive committee's membership.

Spokesmen said District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, who ran far ahead of the rest of the Republican state ticket in his unsuccessful campaign for the governorship, would play a dominant role at the Albany meeting.

The Republican majority leaders in the next state legislature, Senator Perley A. Pitcher and Speaker Oswald D. Heck, will confer soon with Dewey on a legislative program.

More Will Case Witnesses Heard

Continuing the will contest case before Surrogate George F. Kaufman Tuesday several more witnesses were sworn in the case which is being tried before a jury to determine whether the late Frank Sands of Marlborough was competent to make a will last February when there were certain changes made to a will which had been drawn several months previously.

Mrs. Susie Kniffin, former house-keeper for Mr. Sands after his wife died, had testified to several things which she said happened while she was in the household. A relative of Mr. Sands she kept house until the spring of 1933 when she left his employ. In his will he left her the sum of $500 provided she was in his employ at the time of his death. Being in his employ this provision of his will however is now void. Counsel told the jurors that Mrs. Kniffin did not need the money and she was well provided for and had sufficient to live on without working. The witness admitted she had remained in the household despite Mr. Sands' actions.

Among the numerous acts which Mrs. Kniffin testified to and which she said indicated to her that the 32 year old man was not mentally himself were acts which took place about the house. She said he had proposed marriage to her many times and made other offers which were not considered proper by her. Monday afternoon several witnesses were called by the contestant after the will had been offered by proponents. These witnesses testified to acts which they considered irrational on the part of the decedent. Slightly hard of hearing counsel found difficulty in the examination.

Tuesday there were several witnesses called who testified for the proponents. They told of observations made of Mr. Sands during his lifetime and testified that they considered him competent to make a will. Following testimony on Monday by George M. Norlinton, Newburgh attorney, that he had refused to draw a will for Mr. Sands on the grounds he did not consider Mr. Sands competent at the time to make a will, there was testimony Tuesday that Mr. Sands was apparently able to know what he was doing.

Among those who testified was Mr. Herberich who said Mr. Sands his daily paper. At one time he said Mr. Sands had not appeared for several days and when he returned he said he had been getting people out who had planned "to do him." This referred to a time when Mr. Sands was experiencing some difficulty in his household over a relative of the housekeeper coming to the house to live. Mr. Herberich said he considered the explanation to be satisfactory and his opinion was that Mr. Sands was capable of knowing what he was doing. Edward W. Carpenter, cashier of the First National Bank of Marlborough, also testified to dealings with Mr. Sands and said he considered him rational. Benjamin Chillum and Gertrude Woolsey were also called and testified to acts of the aged man which they observed. The trend of the testimony offered by the proponents was that Mr. Sands had been competent to understand his actions when the will was drawn last February.

The case will be continued today. George Rush and A. J. Cook appear for proponents and Stanley Johnson for contestant, Lawton Potts.

500 School Students Ill Near White Plains

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Health officials today sought to diagnose a strange intestinal malady which within a week attacked 500 of the 1,400 students in Eastview Junior High School.

Dr. Edward H. Marsh, Westchester county deputy health commissioner, said the symptoms were nausea, vomiting, dysentery and abdominal cramp. He said all the victims were recovering.

Discounting a theory that the illness could have been caused by food eaten in the school cafeteria, Dr. Marsh said several adults also had been stricken although the epidemic centered at the high school.

Specimens taken from the victims are being analyzed at the state health department laboratory in New York city, he said.

'Incubator' Babies

Get Slim Chance

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—A pair of tiny "incubator" babies greedily drank "eyedropper" meals today and gained strength in their 1,000 to one fight to live.

Just a week old, the babies are twins, a boy and a girl, born three months prematurely to Mrs. James L. Wyde.

Doctors gave the babies only a 1,000-to-one chance to live because six-months babies seldom survive.

Fed with eye droppers and a formula simulating mother's milk, the twins have gained in strength. The boy has gained two ounces and now weighs a "robust" two pounds and 10 ounces. The girl has lost a few ounces but still tips the scales at an ounce more than her twin brother.

Mrs. Wyde, a bus operator's wife, has never seen her young children. She has four other daughters.

Physicians indicated the only "homes" the twins will know for approximately the next three months are the incubators in which they were placed a few minutes after birth.

Memorial Service.

The services are part of one of the most worthwhile customs perpetuated in Elks' lodges throughout the country, that of annually remembering and recalling the principles and objectives to which the departed brothers dedicated themselves in the confraternity of Elksdom. They are also in harmony with the fundamental notion of the order of Elks, that the faults of a Brother are written in the sand, his virtues on tablets of love and memory.

The principal speakers will be the Rev. Benjamin J. Roth of St. Mary's parish, Kingston. Father Roth is an able and compelling orator, delivering his message with enthusiasm and conviction. The remainder of the program will be announced in the near future.

Andrews Promises
Woe to Chiselers

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP)—The "honeymoon" is over for the wage-hour administration, exacting a month after the broad labor standards law went into effect.

Amplifying his press conference statement that the time has come to "crack down" on violators, Administrator Elmer F. Andrews said today in an interview:

"We can't let the chiselers get away with their practices any longer."

While operation of the wage-hour program was getting under way, Andrews deliberately withheld action on complaints. He said he wanted to give interstate industry an opportunity to adjust itself to the new 25-cent-an-hour minimum wage and the maximum work week of 44 hours.

He issued interpretations and regulations to guide companies uncertain whether they came under the law or were in an exempted category. But now he considers the period of grace at an end, and is ready to start prosecution of violators.

Death Casts Fall

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP)—The death of Queen Maund of Norway is casting a pall over diplomatic entertaining in the capital. The Norwegian minister, his family and the legation staff will observe four months of full mourning and two months of half mourning for their Queen. Full mourning bars all social life.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—A minor rally exhausted the stock market's vigor on the upside today as trading remained quiet.

Lifted by a midday buying wave, numerous shares rose fractions to around two points and held most of the gains near the final hour. But transactions at times barely were sufficient to keep the stock ticker going.

Turnover, approximating 1,000,000 shares, was accounted for in considerable measure by activity in several aviation and lower-priced miscellaneous issues.

Outside the share market, speculation beat unusually slow time. Prices were mixed in narrow bond and commodity markets.

The Thanksgiving holiday in the office seemed to thin out markets further, for many traders withdrew ahead of the recess. Steel, mining and miscellaneous industrial shares showed the way for the upturn.

Among the wider gainers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, Kennecott, Westinghouse Electric, DuPont, Climax, Molycorp, Youngstown Sheet, American Smelting, Air Reduction and Caterpillar.

Some brokerage house commentators said the market was set for a "technical" turnaround, driven mainly by short-covering and buying for a turn, after its recent deficit from the highs of the 1938 bull trend.

But many speculators, it was pointed out, followed the traditional Wall Street inclination to take things easy in November and early December while year-end business adjustments and tax transactions are being made.

Trading Dull on Exchange Tuesday

Trading on the Stock Exchange was at a dull pace yesterday with total transactions but $80,000 shares and the session ending with all averages showing losses.

Industrials were down 0.70 point, to 149.56 in the Dow-Jones list. Ralls dropped 0.24 point, to 26.53; utilities declined 0.39 point, to 22.74. Bonds tended lower.

Wheat at Chicago was up half a cent a bushel and rubber turned upward, being 31 to 36 points higher at the close. Cotton in New York reached new highs for the season, the closed three points higher to one lower. Hides were 28 to 36 points lower. Coffee was lower, sugar unchanged to up one point.

The Board of Governors of the Stock Exchange yesterday adopted a program which will broaden the list of securities traded in the Exchange in the future will not pay as much attention to size of companies as to their characteristics which make their securities desirable. The new move is seen as an aid to smaller businesses.

The move to initiate "income taxation" to encourage profit-sharing programs on the part of employers, is arousing considerable discussion and bringing to light some notable differences of opinion. The idea is seen as basically identical with the present system of "penalty levies," the two being simply opposite extremes of the same principle and both will meet opposition from those who do not believe that the federal tax structure should be used as an instrument of reform of any kind.

Figures on railroad car loadings for last week caused surprise when it was found that they were considerably above the previous week, preliminary figures indicating that they were close to the 647,000 cars loaded in the comparable week in 1937. In addition the first nine months of 1938 earnings for October show net operating income 5.7 per cent ahead of October last year, the figures being $17,747,983 this October as against $16,788,205 in October 1937.

Dividend disbursements included: Jewel Tea, $1 on common; Remington Rand, 20 cents; North American Co., 30 cents; Consolidated Aircraft, $1; Pacific Western Oil, 50 cents.

Apparently there still are some railroads that make money. Norfolk & Western had better than expected October results and road may show earnings of $13 a common share for 1938, of which about $10 would be in the last half of the year. Last year the road earned $21.25 a common share.

The U. S. Rubber Co. yesterday resumed dividends, declaring $4 a share on its eight per cent preferred stock, first payment on the issue since February, 1928. President Davis indicated that the company's net profits for the year on basis of present outlook, will approximate the $5,200,000 needed for preferred dividend payments.

The National Retail Dry Goods Association estimates that dollar sales in department and apparel specialty stores during the four weeks preceding Christmas will total at least $1,200,000,000. This will be about the same as for the period last year.

There were general gains in employment outside of the agricultural field during October, according to Secretary Perkins. The increase is set at 248,000. The increase was more particularly noticeable in the durable goods industries.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robin Conn
HOLLYWOOD—The life of a Hollywood scribbler of pieces for the papers is fraught with peril. He is forever sticking his neck out, making people mad, saying the wrong thing.
Even if it is the right thing, some people get mad. They write letters and you wonder how you can live with yourself. You wonder if the world would not be well rid of such a scurvy character. You feel like a monster. Probably you are one.
And the world is so full of a number of things to say the wrong thing about. People, of course. But things, too. Innocent, lovely-sounding things like—like the viola d'amore. Would you, or you, believe that danger lurked in casual reference to a musical instrument? No?

RECENTLY, in happy ignorance, it was reported here that a Metro musician mastered this "practically obsolete instrument" for a movie score—but what, I inquired, would he do with the art now?

Well, now I know. People have written letters. I am informed from several sources that the viola d'amore, far from being obsolete, is a favorite instrument of several people. I have learned that a celebrated artist, Mme. Alix Young Marchess, is "internationally hailed" for her concerns with viola d'amore and viola. The same confusion, not only gives concerts but it was she who played the viola d'amore, music in the movie "Roméo and Juliet."

I am contrite. I sit here, wearing my dunce cap at a bewildered angle and I tremble. I can scarcely go on. Never again will I tangle with a viola d'amore. I shall play safe—but can one play safe?

THINGS like this wear on the nerves. They make you feel as I expect to feel after seeing "The Son of Frankenstein." They tell me this is the horror film to end all. They tell me that Basil Rathbone will join forces with Karloff and Lugosi to squeeze the last chill from the paying customers. They tell me.

Things like this make you feel woozy. You see what it does to you—to me, I mean? Today, I'd intended to strike out vigorously against such silly goings-on as are going on today. Joan Crawford carrying a muff, for instance, just because it's stylish, when only the demure should carry muffs. But I'm frightened silly.

I'm scared because the same people who know about the viola d'amore might LIKE Joan Crawford to carry a muff. I mean—that is—at least—begging your pardon—

Officers Locate 'Missing' Girl

Monday evening about 7:40 o'clock Mrs. Frank Bennett of Morey Hill, town of Kingston, reported that Rae Williams, 15, was missing from the Bennett home, where she had resided for the past six years. The young woman was last seen about 11 o'clock in the morning but apparently had left home shortly before noon.

Sheriff Molyneux and Jailer Lyman Ellsworth began an investigation immediately attempting to get in touch by telephone with anyone in the vicinity of Stony Hollow or Sawkill, who might have seen the young girl. Deputy Sheriffs Clayton Vredenburg and Charles McCullough were sent to make a search of the neighborhood and worked until 5 o'clock Tuesday morning scouring the neighborhood. Tuesday morning Mrs. Lewis, a former neighbor and friend of the Bennett family, notified the sheriff that the young girl had come to her place about 1:30 o'clock in the morning after wandering about the back roads of the neighborhood.

The Lewis place is near Ruby, and about five miles from where the girl had lived.

Deputies Vredenburg and McCullough searched the territory between Murray Hill and Saugerties and called at the Lewis place about a half hour before the girl arrived. The young girl was known as Rae Bennett, although her true name was Elsie Williams. She told the Lewis family that she had become lost in the woods and wandered several hours before finding her way to their home. She was returned to her parents' home at Glasco by the officers.

Man Is Arraigned On Theft Charge

Salvatore Mongolomina, who was brought to the Ulster county jail yesterday from Goshen, where he had been serving a term for petit larceny, was arraigned this morning before Justice Seth C. February 1, this year, Mongolomina was charged with grand larceny for the theft of a car and in county court Judge F. G. Traver sentenced him to Elmira, but suspended sentence. Later, on June 1, he was arrested in Orange county, where he was charged with petit larceny and committed to the county jail at Goshen.

The present charge arose out of his alleged burglarizing of the house of Henry Di Berno of Wallkill, R. D.

Alcohol Causes Serious Burns

John Hilden, Jr., was badly burned about his face, hands, legs and arms last night when alcohol which he had been putting into the radiator of his car took fire. The car was badly burned, and the fire also badly damaged the car of Manuel Eresenden, keeper of the Esopus light house. Both cars were in the Hilden garage on the River road near Ulster Park. Hilden was treated by Dr. Ross of Port Ewen.

The Port Ewen Fire Department was notified and responded with their truck, but the fire was under control before they arrived. The garage was not burned, although badly scorched inside. It is understood that the blaze started when Hilden, after putting the alcohol into his radiator, started up his motor in order to mix the alcohol and water in the radiator.

American Tenor Is Sensation Here

Y. M. Auxiliary Has Annual Holiday Tea

A young man in his early thirties, alert and charming Charles Kullman, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association, unquestionably made at once a fine impression last evening at his concert recital in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Cooperative Concert Association.

His happy, informal presentation aroused the admiration of the audience and he proved a singer of distinguished achievement with a voice of beauty that is used with intelligence and expression.

Mr. Kullman resorted to a favorite custom of using rather non-taxing numbers to warm his voice for the songs to come. He opened with two numbers in Italian, "Filli non ranno più" by Carissimi and "Tu lo sai" by Torelli, and continued with two English numbers, "I'll Sail Upon the Dog Star" by Purcell and "When Dull Care, an old English number. In this group the Torelli number was most received.

The second group gave the audience a taste of Schubert and Richard Strauss. Each number in this group was applauded heartily and as an encore he responded with "Cecilia" by Strauss. Before the intermission Mr. Kullman sang "M'appari from you Flotow's "Martha" and was encored again to sing Johann Strauss' "Viennese Waltz."

Two numbers in the last half of the program that would have given stars to a program were "La Donna e Mobile" from "Rigoletto" and "Do Not Go My Love" by Hageman. As encores in these groups he sang "Off in the Silent Night" by Bachmann and other numbers in the last group, "Respighi's "Invito alla danza" and "Nebbia," "Serenata" by Tosci, "When I Bring You Colored Toys," by John Alden Carpenter, "Charming Chloe" by German and "Love Went A-Riding" by Frank Bridge. The humorous number was "Mary and the Kitchen" by Gordon Bryan.

Mr. Kullman was recalled twice more to sing the "Flower Song" from "Carmen" and a Scotch ballad.

The concert last evening was one of the most delightful heard in Kingston and it was a treat to hear this fine singer. His accompanist, Stuart Rogers, also should come in for his share of praise.

Spencer's Thanksgiving Frolic

A most unusual Thanksgiving party was held at Spencer's Business School Tuesday afternoon. The party room was arranged as a night club with the tables around the walls of the room, while the center was reserved for the show and dancing. The color scheme was brown and yellow. Balloons, streamers, favors and gay paper napkins gave a festive air to the room.

The mistress of ceremonies was Miss Madolin Aiken. The floor show was amusing and the artists that took part received much applause. Harry Jorgenson and Eva Luhrs, from "Way Back When," Martha Cole, Ruth Westbrook, and Jean Jansen in a spur of the moment act. Elmer Dibble as imitator of farmyard friends, and Doris Marie Smith as a little poetry reader were received enthusiastically.

B. Carol Warringer and Sylvia Goldwasser came along with some amusing riddles. Jerry Osborne amazed all by some "hot" news about the private lives of some of the students. Mr. Morton, his fish stories were quite the thing.

After the floor show Mr. Constable and his son, John, father and brother of one of the students furnished music, and dancing began. Later, unusual refreshments were served. Dancing began again, and the party was in full swing. Everyone seemed to have had an exceptionally enjoyable afternoon.

Thanksgiving

¶ IT is right and proper that Thanksgiving should be America's own great "home and fireside" holiday. Never before have we Americans had so much to be thankful for as we have today. ¶ WE HAVE PEACE. Peace founded firmly on a respect for others no less abiding than the respect we hold for ourselves. Peace that rests on the full understanding that war can settle nothing, that no one wins a modern war, and that quiet deliberative effort is the only means of solving any dispute that is worthy of grown-up intelligent men and women. ¶ WE HAVE PLENTY. A means to distribute our great national wealth more equitably must perhaps still be found; but only time, cooperation and work are needed. The wealth is there. ¶ WE HAVE OPPORTUNITY . . . the right of individual "self-determination," a hundredfold happier, richer and more meaningful than the "group self-determination" of other lands. In America any little boy may still some day be president. We take quiet pride that the fruits of American idealism belong to all of us, of every national origin, race or creed. ¶ IT is with full and glowing hearts that we give thanks this last Thursday in November.

Leonards, Merchants and Barmanns are Victorious

Grid Controversy At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 23 (AP)—The football game at the University of Pittsburgh was a wide open, free-for-all contest today with the university's chancellor, the Lett Club, the Alumni and the city's Chamber of Commerce carrying the ball.

The revolt of 22 freshmen football players a week ago set off a new campus controversy that first boiled over two years ago after the Rose Bowl game and has been simmering off and on since then.

The freshmen admitted they signed notes for $150 tuition for a semester but contended they understood this was mere formality. Then, they charged, they were being "dunned" for the money.

Chancellor John C. Bowman brought the controversy squarely into the open yesterday when, in his annual address to the students, he pledged continuance of the Bowman "code" which placed athletics on a "strictly amateur basis" a year ago. He told "unofficial football managers" to keep out of the University's athletic affairs.

This was only an hour after he had rejected a proposal by Pitt's Varsity Letter Club, comprising 900 former athletes, for an "impartial" investigation of athletic affairs, the club announced.

Then the Alumni Council, governing body of the General Alumni Association, announced it would appoint an "impartial" committee to investigate "the entire athletic problem, including the freshmen tuition case."

Finally the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, Bowman disclosed, sent a committee headed by President Frank L. Duggan to him Monday to urge that Pitt continue to have "winning football teams for the good of Pittsburgh."

To the freshmen players, Bowman said: "The University never has and never will stoop to sharp practice. In the event there is a reasonable doubt, I will accept your word and play fair."

Leonards administered a stunning 40-29 upset to the highly touted Hercules in the feature City League case attraction last night. The icebox boys rocked the municipal loop standings by decisively trimming the powder-makers in the opening clash at the auditorium. Babe Coughlin and Andy Celuch clicked in sensational fashion.

Leonards led 11-8 at the quarter, 23-17 at half time and mowed the blasters down with a devastating attack in the last half. Coughlin ripped in four holds as the Leonards drew away to a 35-24 edge and dominated the last quarter to win going away.

Babe Coughlin slipped in six pretty fields from his right forward slot for 12 markers to pace the icebox boys' scoring parade. Coughlin cut loose during the last half to rack up a quartet of duces and insure Leonards' surprise verdict. Celuch, cavorting in the tap-position, dumped in duces for 10 tallies.

Charley Bock showed the way for Hercules with four holds and three free tosses for 11 markers, along with Knute Beichner, right guard, who clicked for the same total.

Leonards Win
Overcoming stubborn resistance from the Knights by virtue of a last quarter barrage, Barmann Blewlers trimmed the Casays to 40-20 National League tilt to jump into the league leadership. Johnny Gilday, Rhymer and Cullum blasted baskets in the last half as the larger kings outgunned the game but outlasted Casays.

Johnny Turk and Toddy Uhl were high for the Casays with five markers apiece. With two wins and no losses, Peter Barmann's crew top the sizzling National League pennant race.

Merchants Victors
Ray Schneider and Andy Murphy collected 12 markers apiece to lead the high stepping Uptown Merchants to their second American division win, 35-10, over the embattled Fullers. The business men led 9-0 at the quarter and 22-2 at half time and turned the game into a stampede during the last half. Midway in the third quarter, Ray Myers followed up for the shirk-makers first field of the season as the Fuller scoring machine was again throttled.

Due to the Turkey Day pro league clash between the Colonials and Troy, the customary Thursday night City League case card has been postponed until a later date and the league will remain idle until next Tuesday.

Touchdown Parade

Kingston High Varsity Set For Game With Newburgh Academy Thanksgiving

High Grade Football Is Assured for Thanksgiving

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Thanksgiving Day, once the climax of the football season, boasts a mere handful of games this year but the presence of such powers as Cornell, Tennessee and Southern California on the slate plus a dozen games of lesser magnitude put as much local interest in the plenty of high grade football.

Cornell meets Pennsylvania in another of those traditional battles that have become a very real part of Philadelphia's Thanksgiving activities. Only the Quakers, a good, game club with a few generous backs, stand in the way of the Cornellians' conquest of the Ivy League and the greatest season in recent Ulster history.

It will be the last game for such stalwarts as Bud Holland, George Peck and Al Van Ranst and they want to go out in a blaze of glory. Penn can answer with a stout line and some fine backs but no one knows whether they will be enough.

Tennessee, heading for the Southeastern Conference title, meets Kentucky, an old and howling rival. The Vols have every body ready for this one, one of their toughest battles in the drive for an undefeated season.

Out on the coast it's Southern California vs U. C. L. A. No one can fence this U. C. L. A. team, while Southern California will be fighting to retain some of the prestige it lost against Washington. The eastern card is skimpy.

Meetings between Manhattan and Villanova, the latter still unbeaten, and Brown and Columbia feature the card.

Alabama and Vanderbilt play in another southern showdown with Virginia's renewal of its ancient feud with North Carolina a top rank game in color and tradition. North Carolina State meets Carnegie Tech and Miami faces Bucknell in two intercollegiate clashes. Mississippi-Mississippi State is another battle on the traditional side.

Nebraska and Kansas State feature the Big Six schedule along with Missouri-Kansas, Texas-Arkansas and Texas A. and M. Texas are the only southwestern pairings of note.

Denver vs Colorado is the Rocky Mountain showdown with the Trojan-Ucan battle the only feature on the coast.

Mickey Walker Coming Here—Fights Friday, the 2nd By Joe Kelly

Tonight the Colonials play in Troy. Tomorrow night Charlie Husta's cagers come to the auditorium. Mickey Walker is booked to do his song and dance act at the Clinton Ford in Rosendale this week-end. He'll visit the TB Hospital Saturday afternoon for a special show. That prelim at the auditorium Thanksgiving night should be a wow. Clermonts will try to make it two in a row over the Barmanns. They beat the Brewers in the Wallkill Valley League. City Clerk Eddie Dempsey informed the boxing committee today that the auditorium is available for Friday, the Masons having cancelled their date. Not having to run on Thursday, and with Diamond Belt champions on the card, the house should be packed.

Rumor has it that the Dodgers are looking for Tony Lazzeri, as well as the Indians, for a player instead of a coach. The Cincinnati Reds are looking for Tony Cuccinello, according to another report. Down at Havana race track, oldtimey say Hirsch Jacobs, champ horse trainer, learned how by training pigeons.

Kingston High School football varsity has completed its preparations for its contest at Newburgh Thursday afternoon.

The regular lineup consisting of Murphy, Garland, Powers, Sluder, Cook, Rose, Von Essen, Ashdown, DeWitt, Cole and Stoll, is in fine shape for what promises to be a grueling battle from start to finish. Kingston will enter the fray with a line averaging about 165 and the backfield 160.

According to advance notes from other cities the Eldermen will outweigh Kingston by at least 10 pounds to a man in the front wall and just about 10 or 12 in the backfield. However, the odds, which favor Newburgh slightly, are not due to the advantage in height.

With a season of three wins and a like number of losses Kingston hasn't really showed its real power. Beating the scrappy Amsterdam eleven in the opener, then Liberty and Middletown, the Klasmens did spark themselves a little. But the fire of the spark died down when they tackled Port Jervis, Poughkeepsie and Highland.

By its impressive showing against the powerful Binghamton eleven a week ago under the arc lights, Newburgh High regained some of its lost prestige. This school has experienced a season which has been balanced with defeats and triumphs.

Injury Jinx
Ever since the Middletown game the Maroon and White gladiators have been plagued with an assortment of injuries. Bill Powers, regular lineman, cracked his leg on the first play in this game and has been on the shelf ever since. "Red" Leahy, Powers' understudy, injured his knee during a scrimmage following the Middle game and has been laid up. Vince Stoll and Jay DeWitt also have been hit by the jinx.

Stoll, the sparkplug of the local machine, has responded to treatment for his bad knee injured in the Highland fracas. DeWitt is nursing a smashed finger.

Butch Lawlor, Bob Cote, Ed Tangal, Ben Gillespie, Biz Benton, Bob Ruckdeschel, John Thomas, Frank Ronzini and Tony Woska are awaiting the Newburgh call.

The Kingston High School band, sixty strong, under the direction of its pretty majorette, Joan Craig, will be on hand along with a few hundred Maroon students who are making the trip to offer moral support. Newburgh will also have a nifty band for the color end of the show.

The probable starting lineups: Kingston—Murphy, Powers, Sluder, Cook, Rose, Von Essen, Ashdown, DeWitt, Cole and Stoll. Substitutes: Kingston—Clark, Brinnier, Tissera, Stauble, York, McCullough, Leahy, Ellsworth, Mazzuca, Terwilliger, Darling, Messinger, Douglas, Ennis, Esposto, Fallon, Perry, Goodsell, Newburgh—Lawlor, Tangal, Denton, Merritt, Taylor, Gillespie, Ronzini, Woska, Manuche, Cote, Carey.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
New York—Tony Canzoneri, 142, New York, outpointed Tony and "Cowboy" Scott, 142½, Washington, D. C., (8).

Los Angeles—Louie Flyer, 133, Los Angeles, knocked out Al George, 136, Columbus, O., (11).
Houston, Tex.—Irish Eddie McGever, 144, Scranton, outpointed Tiger Pelon, 148, Houston, (10).

Giants in Shape for Their Turkey Day Grid Battle Here With Steamrollers

Former Colonials Battle Against Kingston Quintet At Auditorium Thursday

One of the most popular basketball players over to jump around the boards at the municipal auditorium, will return here Thanksgiving night as an enemy of Kingston instead of the popular favorite toiling them in for the home team. Charlie Husta, now managing Troy, will be glad to meet his old friends tomorrow, but says he'll have no mercy once that whistle sends the cagers into action.

With two good practice sessions under their belts, the Kingstonians look forward to regaining the winning touch once more. Anxious to redeem themselves following Sunday's disappointing loss without a game being played, the gridder want to be at their best. Special observance has been trained on the all-important passing drill with Bill Thomas doing the pitching while Jimmy Cullum and Ray Schneider have been taking turns on the receiving end.

Ed Minsian, Bill Keller and Mac Tiano are at top form again and with a sprinkling of good running play efficient aerial offense the local contingent will be a powerful band of mulesplanners to contend with Thursday afternoon. Tickets purchased for the Albany game may be used tomorrow afternoon.

Fordham Would Play in the Bowl
New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Fordham's football team would be quite willing to listen if anybody would mention playing in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans New Year's Day. In response to a query by Herb Benson, chairman of the Sugar Bowl committee, graduate manager Jack Coffey of Fordham said yesterday that a lot would depend upon the outcome of Saturday's game with New York University, but if they should be invited to the bowl they would accept.

Old Glory Sale Scheduled Today

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—The event that annually has New Yorkers shaking the hayseed out of their chin whiskers for two days—the Old Glory auction sale of harness horses—gets underway today.

Besides the New Yorkers who like the rural atmosphere of harness racing, horsemen from all over the country and the usual delegation of foreign buyers are expected to bid on 185 yearlings and proven racers.

Crowd Expected For Crane Show

"From the number of advance reservations, I expect one of the largest crowds I have ever had," said Nick Kaslich, proprietor of the Kaslich Billiard Parlor, when asked about the exhibition by Irving Crane at his parlor tomorrow night.

Crane, recognized as one of the greatest players in the world, will play an exhibition against Freddie Planthaber, Kingston's leading cue artist, starting at 7:15, Thanksgiving night.

Following the exhibition Crane will put on a show of trick shots and will answer any questions on pocket billiards asked by the spectators.
